DRAFT; DELIBERATIVE

Dave, I've reviewed the RTC bubbles from OMB and am providing recommended edits in redline as noted below. The redlines are so minimal that you should be able to easily clip through them on your laptop if you have that technology available. Alternatively, we could print them all out tomorrow at the office and page through them. Your call.

What you'll see in the attached are redline edits only because in most place I deleted OMB's bubbles. Where I rejected the bubble comment, I simply deleted the bubble and didn't add any text, or rejected the redline offered. I did this to streamline your review and the document we pass back. I will be happy to answer any questions OMB has about decisions to accept or reject bubbles and I can let Mindy know that too. Let me know if you have any questions.

Legal – OGC is handling; I just sent my comments to Fotouhi separately

Mapping – you saw the one redline by email earlier, reattaching for convenience

We haven't received passbacks yet on these:
